What You Will Learn

Essential knowledge and testing skills to prepare you to pass PMP® exam.

The course focuses on three critical areas:

1. Understanding the Project Management Body of Knowledge
2. Understanding the Project Management Professional Examination Specification
3. Understanding how to successfully study for the exam

What Participants Say:

“Dr. Christenson successfully combines his top-notch project management education (PhD in Project Management) with his world-class experiences as a project leader in government and private industry. Projects are about delivering results and that’s exactly what Dr. Christenson does for his clients.”

Tres Roeder, PMP, President, Roeder Consulting

“As a technical person in a project management role, without training, I found it valuable to relate all the vocabulary to the processes I already know.”

Scott McGregor, PMP

“Dale is an awesome presenter and facilitator! He has instructed for the Schulich Executive Education Centre, and numerous other university partners, for many years. His evaluations have never been short of excellent and he has won our Instructor Excellence Award every year he has been with us.”

David Barrett, National Program Director for the Centres of Excellence in Project Management and Business Analysis at Schulich Executive Education Centre, Schulich School of Business, York University, Toronto

ProgramContent

PMP® Exam Preparation

The course content covers the Project Management Body of Knowledge but also covers a great deal of other knowledge that is identified as testable matters from the exam specification. Much of this information comes from authors specializing in Project Management (i.e. Kerzner, Verma, Pinto, Verzuh, Christenson, etc.) and is augmented with other critical knowledge from leading business professionals and the Canadian Management Consulting Association. This course includes a variety of learning tools and study aids that are consistent with PMI® processes and terminology.

Designed using adult learning techniques that are sensitive to individual learning styles; we use the three major learning styles (visual, auditory, and kinaesthetic) for all lessons to promote learning in your preferred style.

Understanding Over Memorization

Some memorization is highly recommended to adequately prepare for the exam but is limited to the essential information that is required for the exam and nothing more. This course also coaches participants in effective test taking techniques in order that participants can make the best use of their testing time and not give up marks needlessly because of the test structure or format

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the course, you will be able to:

- ⑤ Identify the knowledge you need to pass the exam
- ⑤ Make the best use of your testing time
- ⑤ Develop and manage your own study plan bridging between this course and the time you wish to take the exam.
